	Climate forms part of our broader environmental, social and governance (ESG) agenda, and we recognise that managing climate-related risks and opportunities is vital to the long-term sustainability to our company. We were the first Australian bank to release a climate change position statement in 2008. In 2015 we supported the Paris Agreement and in 2017 we committed to managing our business in line with the Paris Agreement and the need to transition to a net zero emissions economy by 2050. Our Climate Change Position Statement and 2023 Action Plan (Climate Action Plan) highlights our support for the Paris Climate Agreement to limit global warming to less than two degrees Celsius above pre-industrial levels and to pursue efforts to limit the temperature increase to 1.5 degrees Celsius. We were the first Australian bank to commit to supporting the Paris Climate Agreement and the need to transition to a net zero emissions economy. Our 2023 Sustainability Strategy (Sustainability Strategy) sets out how we can best serve our customers, communities and nation, and contribute to solving global challenges. We have been a supporter of the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) since 2015, and we map how our initiatives contribute to the SDG targets. Our sustainability priorities are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Helping when it matters most – help individuals and businesses build strong financial futures and navigate times of change, providing extra support for customers experiencing hardship • Backing a stronger Australia – help support the social, economic and environmental wellbeing of our nation to build a stronger Australia • Collaborating for impact – finance has a central role to play in addressing the biggest challenges facing our world. We want to play our part – by learning from our partners, sharing our experiences and collaborating to find solutions. Our Human Rights Position Statement and 2023 Action Plan (Human Rights Action Plan) recognises that we have both a responsibility to respect human rights, and opportunities to positively impact human rights, across our value chain. It also lays out the principles and actions that guide our approach and commitment to respecting human rights. These principles and actions are underpinned by a commitment to respect human rights as set out in the International Bill of Human Rights and ILO Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work, and to support the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights.	Human Rights Position Statement and 2023 Action Plan

Principle 2: Impact and Target Setting We will continuously increase our positive impacts while reducing the negative impacts on, and managing the risks to, people and environment resulting from our activities, products and services. To this end, we will set and publish targets where we can have the most significant impacts.
2.1 Impact analysis* Show that your bank has identified the areas in which it has its most significant (potential) positive and negative impact through an impact analysis that fulfills the following elements: a) Scope: The bank's core business areas, products/services across the main geographies that the bank operates in have been as described under 1.1 have been considered in the scope of the analysis. b) Scale of Exposure: In identifying its areas of most significant impact the bank has considered where its core business/its major activities lie in terms of industries, technologies and geographies. c) Context & Relevance: Your bank has taken into account the most relevant challenges and priorities related to sustainable development in the countries/regions in which it operates. d) Scale and intensity/salience of impact: In identifying its areas of most significant impact, the bank has considered the scale and intensity/salience of the (potential) social, economic and environmental impacts resulting from the bank's activities and provision of products and services. (Your bank should have engaged with relevant stakeholders to help inform your analysis under elements c) and d)).	As a major financial institution, we recognise we can influence both positive and negative social and environmental outcomes throughout our operations, products and services. We understand that the Bank's most significant impacts are associated with the products and services we provide. Every three years we review our Sustainability Strategy and Climate Change and Human Rights Action plans to assist in ensuring our commitments and targets continue to be focused on the areas of most impact. This review follows extensive consultation with stakeholders and considers our core business areas, products/services, operations and main geographies in which we operate. Additional consideration and inputs from: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Our Group Fix, Simplify and Perform strategic priorities • Sustainability materiality assessment • Sustainability Risk Management Framework • Our policies and positions • Alignment to the Paris Agreement and the SDGs. As a result of the above process, our refreshed Sustainability Strategy, along with our Climate Action Plan and our Human Rights Action Plan, focuses on areas of most potential significant impact resulting from the Group's activities, at local, national and global levels. Our Sustainability Strategy priorities are in three areas: helping our customers when it matters most, supporting business and communities backing a stronger Australia, and collaborating for impact, particularly on climate change and social risks including human rights. Our Climate Action Plan recognises that climate change is one of the most significant issues that will impact the long-term prosperity of the global economy and our way of life. Our strategy was informed by scenario and financed emissions analysis, as well as engagement with customers, investors, industry bodies, non-governmental organisations and community representatives. It focuses on the three areas where we believe climate change will most impact our customers, business and stakeholders: help customers and communities respond to climate change; improve the climate change performance of our operations; and support initiatives and policies to achieve the goals of the Paris Agreement.	2023 Sustainability Strategy 2021 Annual Report: Strategic Report 2021 Sustainability Supplement: Our Sustainability Strategy, Sustainability Performance, Climate change, Human rights 2021 Sustainability Datasheet - Sustainable lending and investment, Economic and social impact Website: Sustainability Oversight Website: Listening to Stakeholders Website: Approach to Sustainability Risk Management Website: Safer Children, Safer Communities Climate Change Position Statement and 2023 Action Plan Human Rights Position Statement and 2023 Action Plan

Show that building on this analysis, the bank has: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Identified and disclosed its areas of most significant (potential) positive and negative impact – Identified strategic business opportunities in relation to the increase of positive impacts / reduction of negative impacts. 	The Climate Action Plan sets out updated criteria for lending to certain emissions intensive sectors including a commitment to reduce our exposure to the thermal coal mining sector to zero by 2030. It recognises that our financing activity must align with activities that support efforts to keeping a global temperature rise this century to well below 2 degrees Celsius above pre-industrial levels and to pursue efforts to limit the temperature increase to 1.5 degrees Celsius. In 2021, we completed analysis to understand the sectoral profile of our Scope 3 financed emissions. We continued to develop Paris-aligned financing strategies and portfolio targets for sectors representing the majority of our financed emissions, with a focus during the year on oil and gas, metals and mining sectors. Our Human Rights Action Plan recognises that as one of the largest financial institutions in Australia and New Zealand, that we have both a responsibility to respect human rights, and opportunities to positively impact human rights, across our value chain. Our Human Rights Action Plan sets out a series of actions for how we will more deeply embed respect for human rights into our business and our business relationships, reflecting our role as a: financial services provider; lender; purchaser of goods and services; employer; and supporter of our communities. This year we provide an update on our most salient human rights issues. We are committed to reducing the human impact of financial crime, helping to protect children, create safer communities, and contribute to long-term change within Westpac Group. In upholding this commitment, we recognise we have a role to play in identifying, mitigating, preventing, and accounting for our adverse human rights impacts related to children and young people. The Safer Children, Safer Communities work program involves a series of actions and investments that we intend to deliver in Australia and across the Asia Pacific Region over a three year period (2020 – 2023) to help make a meaningful impact on child safety and protection. The program emerged from the third pillar of Westpac's Response Plan to the AUSTRAC November 2019 Statement of Claim.
Please provide your bank's conclusion/statement if it has fulfilled the requirements regarding Impact Analysis. We have fulfilled our Impact Analysis requirements by identifying the areas in which we have the most significant potential positive and negative impact through our Sustainability Strategy, Climate and Human Rights Action Plans refresh, also considering inputs from our materiality assessments, which take into consideration scope, scale of exposure, context & relevance, and scale and intensity of impact. We have piloted using the PRB Impact Identification and Assessment Tool for our Australian businesses, to further understand and check/validate key areas of impact potentially not yet identified by Westpac through the above described approach.

Westpac was a founding member of the PRBs in 2019 and our Group Head of Sustainability serves as the UNEP FI's Co-chair, Banking Board, and regularly engages with the PRB's Civil Society Advisory Body. Our participation in UNEP-FI working groups provides access to existing and good practice for consideration as we continue to implement the PRBs. We publish our alignment with the PRBs and progress against the priorities set out in our Sustainability Strategy each year. Westpac's reporting suite includes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • updates on our sustainability performance and progress; • our current sustainability commitments and partnerships; and • updates on developments in the external environment, particularly with respect to our material sustainability issues. In 2022, we will continue developing Paris-aligned financing strategies and portfolio targets, particularly for sectors representing the majority of our financed emissions. We will work with customers and industry experts. The analysis will consider a range of factors, including the IPCC Sixth Assessment Report, the IEA's Net Zero by 2050, A Roadmap for the Global Energy Sector Report, as well as the impact on the bank and customers, including in hard-to-abate sectors. Our approach will also seek to consider post 2021 UN Climate Change Conference, COP26 policy settings and outlook. This year we established an ESG Working Group to oversee delivery of actions to further embed ESG capability into our organisation. These actions are largely drawn from our Climate Action Plan and Human Rights Action Plan – as well as themes gaining increased focus such as biodiversity and the circular economy. We have continuing participation in the United Nations Global Compact Network, publishing our Communication in Progress each year. Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) Scorecard

Our 2018–2020 RAP was extended and focuses on four areas – meaningful careers, better banking experiences, backing Indigenous business, and prosperous communities – where we believe we can achieve greatest outcomes. These areas reflect our commitment to the UN Sustainable Development Goals and the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. Reconciliation Australia's pillars – Relationships, Respect and Opportunities – underpin our RAP commitments.

AUSTRALIAN LOCATIONS THAT MAY EXPERIENCE HIGHER PHYSICAL RISK BY 2050	To assess the possible implications of climate-related physical risks, the Group studied the potential impact of natural perils on its Australian mortgage portfolio. The analysis: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • uses a generalised model of how extreme weather and climate change may affect direct physical risks to a 'representative property', which is an archetype of a modern Australian home using current building codes, under IPCC RCP2.6 and RCP8.5 scenarios . • considers riverine or surface water flooding, coastal inundation, forest fires, extreme wind including cyclones, and soil subsidence. • computes physical risk for each year from 1990 to 2100, allowing us to assess the potential impacts of current and future extreme weather and climate change. • models the current portfolio with no growth or movement, and did not consider the impact of adaptation measures or management actions to mitigate risks. • identifies locations that may be at higher risk and assessed the Group's current exposure to these locations. Higher risk were locations where insurance may become more expensive or unavailable. • This analysis has been used to assess Westpac's Australian mortgage portfolio exposure to locations identified as likely to be exposed to higher physical risk.

SECTORS THAT MAY FACE RELATIVELY HIGHER GROWTH CONSTRAINTS FROM TRANSITION RISK	To assess the possible implications of climate-related transition risks, the Group used scenario analysis to study how the Australian economy, electricity market and other industry sectors might perform when emissions are constrained in line with 1.5-degree transition pathways. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The emission constraints used in the modelling were informed by the International Energy Agency's Sustainable Development Scenario, the International Renewable Energy Agency's Renewable Energy Roadmap and the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) Special Report on Global Warming of 1.5 Degrees; • Each sector's performance under the scenario pathway was analysed and categorised according to risk profile; • Sectors whose medium (2030) and long-term (2050) performance under a scenario deviated by more than 1 standard deviation below average GDP growth, were classified as 'higher risk'; and • These results were applied to the Australian Business and Institutional lending portfolio to assess the extent of current exposure to these higher risk sectors.
