Introducing Credit Card Repayment Protection.

What is it?

Credit Card Repayment Protection is insurance designed to help cover your credit card repayments if you can't work because of sickness, injury or disease, or if you lose your job. It also helps pay the balance owing on your credit card if you pass away.

Who may need it?

You might like to consider Credit Card Repayment Protection if you or your family couldn't afford repayments if you were unable to work or lost your job, or were to pass away. For example if you don't have salary continuance or life insurance that could provide cover.

Credit Card Repayment Protection is optional and is not a condition of your credit card.

For further details refer to section 2, on page 9.

Are there exclusions?

Yes, there are some circumstances that aren't covered. For example, by way of summary:

- If you are not working at least 15 hours per week at the time of becoming unfit for work,
- Becoming unfit for work within 180 days of cover commencing due to a medical condition which existed in the 180 days before the cover commenced. So if you have a pre-existing medical condition this exclusion may apply to you,
- Voluntary redundancy and resignation, and
- If your employment ceases at the end of a contract or season.

For further details refer to section 4, on page 14.

Who can apply?

You are eligible to apply for Credit Card Repayment Protection if you are:

- a Westpac consumer credit card accountholder,
- aged 18 to 65 years old (inclusive), and
- employed, and working for at least 15 hours per week in that employment for payment.

For further details refer to section 2, on page 10.

How to apply.

If you're eligible, you can apply for cover when you apply online for a Westpac consumer credit card.

When applying for this insurance, it is important that you comply with your duty to be truthful (see below).

Your duty to be truthful.

It's important to be truthful in your dealings with us. Before we issue a policy, we use the information that you provide to decide whether to insure you and, if so, on what terms. If you make a misrepresentation to us before we issue your policy, we may:

- reduce or refuse to pay a claim, or
- treat the policy as never having existed if it is within 3 years of entering into the policy or your misrepresentation was fraudulent.

If you apply for Credit Card Repayment Protection, and we accept your application and receive your premium, this PDS, together with the policy schedule we send you, will be the terms and conditions of your policy. They describe the insurance cover we'll provide to you. You'll receive your policy schedule by mail.

2. What is Credit Card Repayment Protection?

It's a form of consumer credit insurance to help cover your credit card repayment obligations if you lose your job, or become unfit for work. It also helps pay the balance owing on your credit card if you die. Full details of the cover and its limits are explained later in this PDS.

2.1 Do I need it?

If you become unfit for work due to sickness, injury or disease, or lose your job, you may find it difficult to meet your credit card repayment obligations. Credit Card Repayment Protection can help by contributing to your credit card repayments for you – one less thing to worry about.

If you die, the amount owing on your credit card still has to be repaid. Credit Card Repayment Protection could help pay this debt – easing any financial burden on your family and your estate.

Of course, the decision to buy Credit Card Repayment Protection is entirely up to you. You're not obliged to apply for or take out this type of insurance. You may also be able to arrange this insurance through a different insurer, however you should be aware that such insurance is normally only available as part of a credit card package.

2.2 How does it work?

Here's a summary of how and when Credit Card Repayment Protection could help you.

- If you become unfit for work due to sickness, injury or disease, we will pay up to 20% of the balance owing at that time per month until you are fit for work. The maximum amount payable is the balance owing at the time you became unfit for work plus interest, up to $50,000.
- If you lose your job, we will pay up to 20% of the balance owing at that time per month for 180 days or until you start another job where you are or will be employed at least 15 hours per week, whichever happens first.
- If you die, we will pay the balance you owe on your credit card at the date of death, up to $50,000.

2.3 Am I eligible to apply?

To be eligible to apply, you must be:

- applying for or have a Westpac consumer credit card account in your name (it's not available to additional card holders),
- at least 18 and no more than 65 years of age,
- employed (this is defined on page 25). This includes being self-employed, a partner in a business partnership, a full time, part time, contract or seasonal worker, or if you are contracted for a specified period or to perform a specified task. (Please note the exclusions set out in 'What's not covered?' starting on page 14), and
- working in that employment for at least 15 hours per week. If your hours vary, we take an average of your hours over the past 28 days. If you have more than one job, you can add the hours for each of your jobs together. However, you will not be able to claim for job loss or being unfit for work unless you lose or are unable to perform all of your jobs. (Please note the exclusions set out in 'What's not covered?' starting on page 14).

2.4 How do I apply?

Simple. If you meet the eligibility criteria, you can apply right now – there's no medical examination required.

Apply for cover when you apply online for a Westpac consumer credit card.

If we accept your application, you'll then be covered straight away.

Not eligible?

If you don't meet the eligibility criteria to apply for this cover, you can use the Insurance Council of Australia's online tool to find insurers at findaninsurer.com.au. This may give you the name of an insurer or insurers who can provide you with alternative insurance options.

3. What's covered?

It's important to understand how and when we'll pay benefits under your policy if you do need to make a claim.

In summary, we'll contribute to your repayments if:

- you are unfit for work (this is defined on page 25), or
- you lose your job (this is defined on page 25), or
- you die,

subject to the limits in the 'Benefits table' on page 12 and the exclusions in 'What's not covered?' starting on page 14.

To see how we calculate the amount we'll pay to your credit card and the limits that apply, refer to the 'Benefits table' starting on page 12.

3.1 Things to note.

- You must comply with the terms and conditions of your credit card.
- For a benefit to be paid, the event giving rise to a claim must happen on or after the commencement date of your policy, not before.
- The benefits and conditions outlined in this PDS apply to claims where the claimable event occurs on or after 1 October 2018.
- The number of hours you are employed is relevant at the time of becoming unfit for work. For a benefit to be paid you must be employed at least 15 hours per week at the time you became unfit for work. If at any time after the insurance has been issued, your employment changes and as a result you are employed less than 15 hours per week, you should consider whether this insurance continues to meet your needs.
- All benefits are paid to your credit card. We do not make payments to you.
- This policy does not accrue any bonuses or earn interest for you. Therefore there is no surrender value and you have no profit distribution entitlements.

3.2 Benefits table.

Claim type	How we work out the amounts we'll pay and the limits that apply
Unfit for work	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• The amount we pay is calculated on the balance you owe on your credit card at the time you become unfit for work.</li><li>• We find out the balance you owe on your credit card, multiply this amount by 20%, and then calculate a daily amount by dividing by thirty ('30').</li><li>• We then pay the daily amount for each day you are unfit for work.</li><li>• The maximum amount payable is the balance owing at the time you became unfit for work plus interest, up to $50,000.</li></ul>
Job loss	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• The amount we pay is calculated on the balance you owe on your credit card at the time you lose your job.</li><li>• We find out the balance you owe on your credit card, multiply this amount by 20%, and then calculate a daily amount by dividing by thirty ('30').</li><li>• We then pay the daily amount for each day of job loss until you start another job where you are or will be employed at least 15 hours per week, up to a maximum of 180 days for any one continuous period of unemployment.</li><li>• To make another job loss claim you must start another job where you are or will be employed at least 15 hours per week and lose your job again.</li></ul>
Death	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• The amount we pay is the balance you owe on your credit card at the date of death, up to $50,000.</li><li>• We do not pay any interest, costs or other amounts which accrue after the date of death.</li><li>• Any such payment is issued from the No. 1 Statutory Fund of Westpac Life Insurance Services Limited.</li></ul>

Benefit calculation examples

- If you owed $6,000 on your credit card at the time you became unfit for work, we work out: 20% of $6,000 = $1,200.
  - We then divide $1,200 by thirty ('30') to get a daily amount = $40 per day.
  - So if you were unfit for work for 120 days, the total we pay to your credit card is $4,800 (120 days at $40 per day).
  - Using the above example, if you were unfit for work for more than 150 days the maximum payable is $6,000 plus interest ($6,000 being the balance owing at the time of becoming unfit for work).
- If you owed $6,000 on your credit card at the time you lost your job and you started a new job 70 days later, we work out 20% of $6,000 = $1,200.
  - We then divide $1,200 by thirty ('30') to get a daily amount = $40 per day.
  - The total we pay to your credit card is $2,800 (70 days at $40 per day).
  - Using the above example, if you didn't start a new job for 270 days, the total paid to your credit card is $7,200 (180 days at $40 per day). This is because it exceeds the maximum of 180 days for any one continuous period of unemployment.
- If you die and the balance owing on your credit card is $10,400, we would pay $10,400 to your credit card.

The examples in the Benefits table are illustrative only. As the balance owing on your credit card may differ to the balances in the examples, the actual amounts paid in your circumstances may differ.

4. What's not covered?

Here are the exclusions that apply to your policy.

They're listed in the following table and their relevance to each type of cover is indicated with an (X) in the applicable column. So for example, if you voluntarily resign, you aren't covered and no payment will be made for job loss.

5. The cost of Credit Card Repayment Protection.

Credit Card Repayment Protection costs 52 cents for every $100 owing on your credit card.

Your monthly premium is calculated on the balance owing on your credit card at the end of each statement cycle.

5.1 Premium examples.

Balance owing at the end of statement cycle is	Monthly premium
Nil	Nil
$1,000	$5.20
$3,000	$15.60
$5,000	$26.00

These examples are illustrative only. The monthly premiums payable by you will depend on the amount of your balance owing each month. The statement cycle is determined by the 'Statement From' and 'Statement To' dates on your monthly credit card statement. The end of the statement cycle is the 'Statement To' date.

5.2 How are premiums charged?

When there's a balance owing at the end of a statement cycle, a monthly premium will be automatically charged to your credit card. This charge will appear as an item on your credit card statement. And remember, if you're close to your credit limit, your premium payment could put you over the credit limit.

Your premium includes GST and government charges. Interest may be payable on the premium. We won't vary the cost of 52 cents per month for every $100 owing on your credit card without giving you at least 30 days written notice.

You're covered continuously.

The premium is charged at the end of a statement cycle and applies even if you pay your credit card balance in full by the due date. This is because Credit Card Repayment Protection provides you with continuous cover throughout the month. Cover applies as soon as a new charge is incurred, even if that charge has not yet been billed.

6. Cancelling your policy.

If things change in your life, no problem.

You have the flexibility to cancel your policy whenever you wish. We may also need to cancel your policy in certain circumstances, as set out here.

Please note, the unfit for work, job loss and death cover components of your policy cannot be taken separately so they cannot be cancelled separately.

6.1 When can you cancel your policy?

- To confirm you continue to be unemployed, we'll provide a declaration for you to sign and send to us.
- If you're entitled to claim beyond 30 days after lodging a declaration, we'll provide further declarations for you to sign and send to us until the maximum of 180 days for any one continuous period of unemployment has been reached.

7.3 For a death claim.

- A claim form isn't required.
- We need a certified copy of the original death certificate.

7.4 How we assess your claim.

We're allowed to make any reasonable enquiries about your claim. When it comes to an unfit for work claim, we may also need you to be examined by registered medical practitioners we nominate.

We'll pay for these examinations and any reasonable expenses you incur attending them. You must also give us any other information and documentation we may ask for to support your claim.

7.5 Timing and payment.

We usually take up to 10 working days to process a claim, but in some cases we may take longer. In these cases we'll agree reasonable alternative timeframes with you.

We'll notify you if your claim is accepted or denied, or if we need further information. You can check on the status of your claim by calling 1300 369 989.

For an unfit for work claim or a job loss claim, we'll pay your benefit progressively or in one payment.

For a death claim, we'll pay the benefit in one payment.

7.6 GST and your premiums.

Where we ask on your claim form, you must provide us with information about the extent (if any) to which you were entitled to claim input tax credits on your premium for GST purposes.
