Altitude Rewards. Terms & Conditions.

1. When do these terms and conditions apply?

When you or an additional cardholder first use your new card account, you are treated as having agreed to be bound by these terms and conditions.

You agree that these terms and conditions apply to any points you earn.

Your use and the operation of your card is also subject to separate conditions of use which were provided with your card. Should you like an additional copy of them, please contact Westpac's Cards Customer Service Call Centre on 1300 651 089 (Altitude cardholders) or 1300 859 100 (Altitude Platinum and Altitude Platinum Plus cardholders) or 1300 651 999 (Altitude Black cardholders).

2. Switching between Altitude Rewards and Altitude Qantas programs.

2.1 Your ability to switch from Altitude Rewards to Altitude Qantas and from Altitude Qantas to Altitude Rewards is governed by the following:

- if you have an Altitude Visa card, Altitude Platinum Visa card, or Altitude Black card, you may switch all cards linked to the card account between Altitude Rewards and Altitude Qantas programs at any time and any number of times, subject to the time it takes us to process each request. You should allow at least 10 business days for a request to switch to be processed or as advised at the time of your request.
- if your card is an Altitude Mastercard, Altitude Platinum Mastercard, Altitude Platinum Plus card, Altitude Business card or Altitude Business Gold card linked to Altitude Rewards, you cannot switch your rewards program from Altitude Rewards to Altitude Qantas.

2.2 When you switch your card from Altitude Rewards to Altitude Qantas programs in accordance with the conditions above, the terms and conditions of Altitude Rewards (as relevant) will continue to apply to the Altitude Points you have already earned through Altitude Rewards.

2.3 Altitude Points cannot be earned on your card once a switch to Altitude Qantas rewards has been processed. You cannot combine your Altitude Points with Altitude Points earned on an account in someone else's name.

3. How does Altitude work?

Under Altitude, you earn Altitude Points whenever goods or services are purchased using your card or your card account. You may then convert the points to rewards that Altitude may offer from time to time and for which you qualify.

4. How do you earn Altitude Points?

4.1 For Altitude, Altitude Platinum and Altitude Platinum Plus card accounts:

Points are calculated on the number of Australian dollars posted to the card account in connection with eligible purchases of goods or services (including any GST payable in respect of the goods or services) from merchants accepting your card until the number of points earned reaches your card account's points cap. To see the points cap that applies to your card account and how many Altitude Points you earn per dollar spend using your card please visit westpac.com.au/ccrewards or call us on 1300 887 820.

Altitude Points will no longer accrue when the relevant points cap is reached in any statement cycle.

If you (or an additional cardholder) return any goods or services purchased with the card or your card account is credited, this may result in points being debited from your points record (excludes payments to your card account). The number of points deducted from your points record will be calculated in accordance with the rate at which you were earning points at the time the refund or credit is posted to your card account. If your points record is adjusted in connection with the refund or credit, we will also adjust the number of points you need to earn before you reach the points cap in the same statement cycle the refund or credit is posted to your card account.

If you switch your existing card account to a new card account at any time, points already credited to your points record are unaffected. From activation of a new card account, you can earn points on purchases posted to the card account up to the new account's points cap in any statement cycle.

4.2 How do you earn points on your Altitude Black card account?

The points are calculated on the number of Australian dollars posted to the card account in connection with purchases of goods and services (including any GST payable in respect of the goods or services) from Merchants accepting your card.

The number of points you earn on your Altitude Black account is uncapped. To see how many Altitude Points you earn per dollar spend using your card please visit westpac.com.au/ccrewards or call us on 1300 887 820.

If you (or an additional cardholder) return any goods or services purchased with the card or when your card account is credited, this may result in points being debited from your points record (excludes payments to your card account). The number of points deducted from your points record will be calculated in accordance with the rate at which you were earning points at the time the refund or credit is posted to your card account.

4.3 Bonus points

You may also receive bonus points per dollar spend from time to time for using your card or card account to acquire goods or services. There is no limit on the number of bonus points you can earn in any statement cycle.

You may also receive additional bonus points in connection with special promotions offered from time to time. The conditions applying to these will be advised at the time of the promotion.

4.4 When will you not earn points?

While points are earned when you purchase goods and services, please note that points are not earned in respect of the following amounts that may be charged to your card account:

- government charges (other than GST payable in connection with the purchase of goods or services on which you earn points)
- interest and other bank fees and charges (including any GST payable on any of these)
- cash advances (any transaction treated by us as a cash advance as further explained in the “Interpretation” section – clause 19 below)
- balance transfers
- BPAY payments; i.e. bill payments and other payments made through the BPAY[®] Electronic Payments Scheme.
- ATO payments; i.e. payments using your Altitude Visa card, Mastercard[®] or American Express[®] card; Altitude Platinum Visa card, Mastercard or American Express card; Altitude Platinum Plus Visa card, Mastercard or American Express card; and Altitude Black World Mastercard[®] or American Express card, designated as an ATO payment or Card Payment Fee.

5. How long do you have to use your points?

Your points will not expire but in some circumstances set out in these terms and conditions, you may not be entitled to them or be able to claim rewards (and we may correct your points record by deleting any points invalidly earned).

If you close your card account, you must use your points within 90 days after the account is closed. You will not be able to use your remaining unused points after that period to claim rewards.

Where an account holder dies and we or Westpac are formally advised of that fact within six months of it occurring, we will convert the points in that account holder's points balance to a credit to the card account at the rate that applies to the redemption of the Altitude annual fee rebate at that time. Where notice of the account holder's death is received outside the six months notice period, any Altitude Points in the account holder's points balance will be forfeited.

No other person, including any additional cardholder, is entitled to redeem the points of a deceased account holder.

Clause 17 sets out our right to terminate Altitude at any time. After Altitude is terminated you will no longer be able to earn points.

6. What are the rewards?

The rewards available at any time are set out on altituderewards.com.au or you can contact the Altitude Rewards Centre on 1300 887 820 (Altitude cardholders) or 1300 859 100 (Altitude Platinum and Altitude Platinum Plus cardholders) or 1300 651 999 (Altitude Black cardholders). All rewards are subject to availability and substitutions may be necessary. We will only substitute rewards where we reasonably consider they are comparable. All rewards are subject to the specific conditions on which the provider of the reward makes the reward available. If there is any inconsistency between them and these terms and conditions, the specific conditions prevail.

7. How do you claim a reward?

7.1 Only you may claim a reward – additional cardholders may not claim rewards.

7.2 You may claim a reward if you have sufficient points on your points balance at the time of your claim. The number of points required for each reward is available through the Altitude Rewards Centre or at altituderewards.com.au. You can only select rewards current at the time you claim a reward. You must have earned at least 3,000 points before you can claim a reward unless we advise you otherwise.

- 7.3 You can claim a reward by telephoning the Altitude Rewards Centre, or through altituderewards.com.au. For rewards which are delivered, you should allow 5 business days for gift cards and 10 business days for other rewards to be dispatched from the time you make your request for delivery of your reward. We will arrange for your reward to be delivered to the postal address you last notified to us. The delivery address cannot be a PO Box unless the reward is a gift card. The delivery address must be an address in Australia. Where there is a delay in delivery we will notify you and provide you with the option to change your reward. You may be charged for delivery of your rewards.

We will tell you about the delivery charges before they are incurred. We may require that gift cards for a relatively high value and certain other rewards are couriered rather than posted. We will let you know where this is the case and will require you to pay the courier charges.

Neither we nor our agents are responsible if a reward (including a gift card) is lost, stolen or damaged after it has been dispatched for reasons beyond our reasonable control.

- 7.4 Frequent flyer points conversions – if you are a member of a frequent flyer program participating in Altitude you may convert Altitude Points to your nominated participating airline’s frequent flyer points. You should allow at least three business days for your Altitude Points to be converted to frequent flyer points or as advised at the time of conversion.

From time to time participating airlines may change or offer special points promotions. Check altituderewards.com.au for the latest details or contact the Altitude Rewards Centre.

The airlines that are participating in Altitude are available on altituderewards.com.au

You should be aware that:

- frequent flyer points cannot be converted to Altitude Points
- you must have earned a minimum number of Altitude Points before you can convert them to frequent flyer points and you may only convert Altitude Points to frequent flyer points in set minimum increments – you can obtain details of these at altituderewards.com.au

- 7.5 Travel – you may redeem points for travel. Travel rewards may include flights, tours, car hire, hotel accommodation or a combination of these. These rewards may be offered by the travel provider who is a redemption partner or you may call Altitude Travel at the Altitude Rewards Centre on 1300 887 820 (Altitude cardholders), on 1300 859 100 (Altitude Platinum and Altitude Platinum Plus cardholders) or 1300 651 999 (Altitude Black cardholders) and redeem your points directly for any travel bookings able to be booked by Altitude Travel as a licensed travel agent.

Please note that hotel accommodation rewards are also subject to availability of rooms allocated by hotels for the purposes of reward schemes such as Altitude and other conditions.

- 7.6 Gift cards – you may redeem your points for gift cards which the Altitude Rewards Centre will send you. Gift cards are to be redeemed with the reward provider specified on the gift card. If the gift card contains an expiry date, it cannot be used after that time and points will not be re-credited to you if you do not use a gift card or the card's preloaded amount. You cannot redeem gift cards for cash, cheques, money orders or other payment instruments.
- 7.7 Charity donations – you may redeem your points for a donation to a participating charity. You should make your own inquiries with your tax advisor as to whether such a redemption gives rise to any tax deductions.
- 7.8 Merchandise rewards – you may redeem your points for specified merchandise. The Altitude Rewards Centre will arrange for these rewards to be delivered to you.
- 7.9 Points Plus Pay option – if you have insufficient points to enable you to redeem a particular reward, in the case of certain rewards, you may pay an additional amount for the portion of the reward not covered by your points earning to redeem that reward. This is known as the points plus pay option.
- We will determine when and how that top up option is available at any time. You can contact the Altitude Rewards Centre for further details.
- As previously noted, the points plus pay option will not be available to redeem rewards which are frequent flyer points.
- 7.10 You cannot cancel a reward claim – except where we give you the option of changing your reward under clause 7.3. If you claim a reward, you cannot change or cancel that claim nor can you exchange or return a reward to obtain a re-credit of the relevant points.

- 7.11 Order of points redemption – when Altitude Points are converted to frequent flyer points or redeemed for rewards, they are redeemed in the order in which they were earned, so that the oldest points in your points balance are redeemed first whenever you claim a reward.
- 7.12 Personal Shopper redemptions for Altitude Black account holders – as an Altitude Black account holder, you may redeem your points through the Personal Shopper Service by calling 1300 651 999. You must redeem for a good or service that is priced at a minimum of $800 or a minimum value of 166,000 Altitude Points. You can choose to redeem your points for any goods or services, subject to the following exclusions, which we may change from time to time on 30 days prior notice:
- Medical supplies, related services or surgery;
 - Gambling related offers and or services;
 - Cash or credit against a savings, personal, business or home loan;
 - Contribution towards any political party in the form of donation; or
 - Property purchase.
- 7.13 Annual fee rebate – you may redeem your points for an annual fee rebate on cards linked to Altitude Rewards, once per calendar year for each account. Points will be immediately deducted from your card account and you should allow up to 10 business days of redemption for the funds to be credited to your card account. Please refer to altituderewards.com.au for the different rebate amounts or contact the Altitude Rewards Centre.
- 7.14 Credit to your card account – you may redeem your points for a credit to your card account for cards linked to Altitude Rewards. Points will be deducted immediately from your card account and you should allow up to 10 business days of redemption for the funds to be credited to your card account. The amount credited to your card account will not contribute to any minimum monthly payment due. You should inquire with your tax advisor as to whether such a redemption gives rise to any tax implications. Please refer to altituderewards.com.au for the different rebate amounts or contact the Altitude Rewards Centre.

8. Who is responsible for the rewards?

We are responsible for ensuring that the rewards are made available to you as set out in these terms and conditions. To enhance the protection of your points, Westpac will contribute to a trust fund. Whilst you will not have an interest in the trust fund, the monies in it will be applied to meet the cost of redeeming rewards. We will advise if the trust fund is to be terminated.

Our liability to you in respect of any rewards or goods or services redeemed using your points is set out in clause 15.

We are not responsible if you cannot claim or redeem a reward for reasons beyond our reasonable control. However, in these circumstances, where your points have not been converted, you may claim an alternative available reward.

9. How do you keep track of your points and reward entitlements?

Your card statement will display your points record including the points that have been credited to your points balance and any points you have used to claim a reward during the period covered by the card statement.

New points are updated to the Altitude Rewards Centre each business day for transactions made on the previous business day. Your points record will usually reflect the points earned on a transaction in accordance with clause 4 within 2 business days of the transaction being posted to your card account.

Points can be used to claim rewards as soon as they have been processed and have been added to your points record. If you have any questions in relation to the points information displayed on your card statement, please contact the Altitude Rewards Centre. If you think you are entitled to more points than the card statement or your points record shows, you may be required to also send copies of the relevant sale receipts or the card statement showing the transactions for which you believe you are entitled to additional points. Before you do this, please check your points statement and points record carefully. We investigate all queries and make the final decision if there is any dispute. We may adjust your total points (backdating the adjustment if necessary) if points have been incorrectly credited or debited for any reason.

10. How do we communicate with each other?

11. When we will not award points or fulfil reward claim.

You do not receive points and may not claim a reward, if your card account is in arrears for 2 consecutive card statement cycles (you must bring your card account up to date by paying the arrears before you can recommence earning points or claim a reward).

You are not entitled to points (and we may correct your points record by deleting points invalidly awarded) if:

12. Points themselves do not have monetary value.

Points are not property and do not have any monetary value except in respect of the value assigned to them by Altitude Points and rewards may not be transferred, sold, bequeathed or inherited.

Points can only be redeemed for rewards and are not convertible into cash or to a credit to your card account except as set out in clause 5 and clause 7. Points are just used to record your entitlement to claim a reward.

13. Your responsibility to pay any costs.

You are responsible to pay or reimburse us or Westpac for any tax liability (including any GST that may be payable), stamp duty or other duty or government charges or airport related charges in connection with the receipt of points or a reward.

- 3.2 Subject to these terms and conditions, you earn Qantas Points to be credited to your Qantas Frequent Flyer account each month by using your Card or the Card Account.
- 3.3 Qantas Points are calculated on the number of Australian dollars posted to the Card Account in connection with purchases of goods or services (including any GST payable in respect of the goods or services) from merchants accepting your card until the number of points earned reaches your Card Account's points cap if any.

For Altitude Qantas Cards, Altitude Qantas Platinum Cards, Altitude Qantas Platinum Plus Cards and Altitude Business Qantas Gold: Qantas Points will no longer accrue within a statement cycle when the relevant points cap is reached.

For Altitude Black Cards linked to Altitude Qantas there is no points cap.

- 3.4 If you switch your existing Card Account to a new Card Account at any time, Qantas Points already earned will be credited to your Qantas Frequent Flyer account.

From activation of a new Card Account, you can earn Qantas Points on purchases posted to the Card Account up to the new Card Account's points cap in any statement cycle.

- 3.5 Purchases made by the additional cardholder will earn Qantas Points that are credited to the primary cardholder's Qantas Frequent Flyer account in accordance with the conditions set out in this clause 3.
- 3.6 Only whole numbers of Qantas Points are awarded. Fractions of Qantas Points are not credited.

4. How long do you have to use your Qantas Points?

The use of your Qantas Points, including the life of your Qantas Points, are governed by the terms and conditions of the Qantas Frequent Flyer program.

5. How do you earn additional or extra Qantas Points ('Additional Qantas Points')?

The number of Qantas Points deducted from your points record will be calculated in accordance with the rate at which you were earning points at the time the refund or credit is posted to your Card Account. If we adjust the number of Qantas Points you have earned in a statement cycle, we will also adjust the number of Qantas Points you need to earn before you reach the points cap in the same statement cycle the refund or credit is posted to your Card Account.

- 6.6 Where the Card Account is credited in connection with a fraudulent transaction, and:
