

Important Information.

The American Express Westpac Altitude Black and the American Express Westpac Altitude Platinum Cards are issued and serviced by American Express.

You can apply for an American Express Westpac Altitude Card if you hold (or have been approved) for an eligible Westpac Credit Card (Issued by Westpac).

If you apply and are approved for the American Express Westpac Altitude Black or Platinum Card, you will have a:

- New credit card account issued and serviced by American Express.
- Separate credit limit – not shared with your eligible Westpac Credit Card.
- Separate statement - not combined with your eligible Westpac Credit Card, which means you will need to make separate repayments directly to American Express.
- Separate Annual Card Fee.

American Express will pay a monthly commission to Westpac in relation to your account. As the commission is dependent on all American Express Westpac Altitude customers' use of their Cards, the amount is not ascertainable. Fees or charges in relation to this Card are only payable to American Express, not Westpac.

Things you need to know:

Credit criteria, fees and charges apply.

200 years proudly supporting Australia