

Acceptable income documents for your Westpac credit card application.

Westpac accepts the below types of documentation under the current credit policy:

Full Time/Part Time Employment

- 2 most recent payslips less than 60 days old;
- or
- Most recent bank statements covering the last 3 months detailing your salary/wages deposits

Casual Employment

- 2 most recent payslips less than 60 days old inclusive of year to date income details;
- or
- Most recent bank statements covering the last 3 months, detailing your salary/wages deposits

Self-Employed

- Most recent Notice of Assessment that must be less than 18 months old
- and
- Last 2 months of business bank statements

Australian Government Allowances

- Most recent bank statement covering the last 3 months; detailing your payments;
- or
- Letter from Government authority covering the last 2 months, with your name confirming entitlements and income;
- or
- Centrelink online statement which must have detailed narrative showing 4 most recent payments received

Rental Income

- Most recent bank statement covering the last 3 months, detailing your rental income deposits;
- or
- Most recent Notice of Assessment that must be less than 18 months old and Tax Return confirming annual rental income

Retirement Income, Self-Funded Annuity and Investment Income

- Bank statements covering the last 3 months with detailed narrative confirming recent Superannuation/Annuity/ Investments deposits received
- or
- Most recent Superannuation/Annuity statements covering the last 60 days
- or
- Most recent Notice of Assessment less than 18 months old
- or
- Most recent Annual Investment statement less than 18 months old

Paid Parental/Maternity Leave

- 2 most recent payslips less than 60 days old;
- or
- Most recent bank statement covering the last 3 months

Commission

- Most recent Notice of Assessment that must be less than 18 months old